I have several questions about your 26 Oct memorandum. Did the a, b, and c command channels occur simultaneously? How do you interpret the use of four ac codes per frame? I want to get together with you and [REDACTED] to discuss this shortly.

I notice that [REDACTED] is the Project Engineer of some work at [REDACTED] having to do with Analog to Digital conversion. What is the relationship between this work and the Analog to Digital conversion that goes on in [REDACTED] and that may be required for [REDACTED] Is this a generalized study or does it have some particular application?
